

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

How could this act possibly be in the best interests of the public you serve? Someone, or some very small group of individuals is already SELECTING FOR ME WHAT I WILL SEE ON TV. As long as humans are making those choices, they are going to be biased! That is human nature. How can you leave those choices to a few totally self-serving entities? What is the real agenda here, and who are you really serving?
